

Session 2 corrections

- Muggle door leads to Skipping-a-Derry. This is the fairy door Thinwhistle told us about
 - Grimalkin's crimes blamed on Gwomotom
 - Llerg wasn't beat up, just accosted
 - we sold the rest of our loot during Moot
 - Only Andromethia is half elf half satyr. Her subjects are elves
- ## Session 3: 25th of Simmswald

Breggle fest. Public portion and private portion for breggles at Shadhome - Seat of power

- Jack and I talk to Margery, trying to find Lucien
- Lucien bought some expensive drinks and headed to the woods
 - He wasn't with the three breggles
- Jack pays a poor child, Jeremy, to keep tags on the constable
- We go look for Lucien at edge of woods by Nuncle Stones
- Handmade pin shaped like a vial
 - Reminds of the apothecary - Man of Gold
 - Man of Gold! In narrow alley near Hornstat's squat building w/ 2 story tower.
manned by Sidewich Mallwort
 - He says pin was his daughter Sadie's
 - He briefly scolds her for playing by the stones

- He tells us Farnham was a linguist
- For sale: Potions- Amber nectar Id4 heal, 200 gp, chance it makes you sleep
- Devil's grease- Fungus psychedelic slime mold with ultraviolet aura. Smells like strange sausage. Makes you intensely aware of your body
- Has the common herbs found in Dolmenwood
- He tells us we can find spirithome 1 day Northwest of Lankshorn
- Hag's Addle- 20 mile stretch along Lake Longmere. Dangerous but can find cool herbs there like Marshwick. Beware of the hag.
- Find bloodcanker towards the Mossling domain
↳ Healing Id3 but risk of losing constitution
- Jack asks Sadie about the stones
 - The cool kids hang out there
 - She saw an elf playing music
 - Short creatures appeared from thin air and spoke to elf. They all disappeared then with elf.
 - We now know what happened to Lucien

Meanwhile...

Gwomatom in his cell at the constabulary

- Given rice and mash as food
- Locked in basement, small window looks out to street.

- Courts a stray dog through the window
 - Curly haired and floppy eared breed - dapper, ^{Small sized}
 - Becomes Gwomatom's animal companion
- That night, Jeremy returns to Hornstoot's rest
 - Constable left constabulary a few hours ago, went down ditchway into the woods. To Crookhorns?

Next day: 26th. Pouring rain

Tomkin returns to town to the famed bladesmith
Smith: Wide set eyes, piercing. Mid 40s, slicked black hair
Name: Soromy Whilptson-Puddingfoot

He doesn't mind Tomkin serving lord Ramius

Tomkin trades his mace and shield for a longsword
Smith mentions he can moonforge to make an enchanted blade

Time skip to 28th

- Gwomatom released from jail
- Named his dog Tom

Next day, 29th - Warm and sunny

- Lucien reappears in the woods where he was whisked away
- Was with small blue goblins
- Flowers bloom where Lucien walks for a time
- He returns to Lankshorn at 9 in the morning while we're playing i spy

- Recounts time with Andromethia, drunk on Fairy Absinthe
- Recovered a dragantly hairpin
- Learns the fairy road Goes from Moggle Door near Lanks horn to Willowgate to North
- Another fairy road - Buttercup Lane: Rosy Gate in Northeast to Emerald Door to Northwest
- Asks Andromethia about Thinwhistle's riddle
Maom water fall that feeds into Lake Longmere.
Frost elf embassy nearby.
- Received an invitation back to Blossum Fields
- Given a warning - The princess's sister rules over the Death glades from palace of white marble.
Lady of Spring unending is her title

The party all together now

- We follow Jeremy to find out where the constable went a few days ago
- Not far outside of town, there is a path we follow to a small clearing after sending Jeremy back to town. we don't see anything in clearing
- Gwamotom tries to get attention of a bird
 - A Crow comes after food was left out
 - Crow didn't see anything recently
 - Small grey creatures frequent the area, they simply vanish

- A long time ago, saw a human in red armor Constable?
- It heard "Leeleengtablea" Henrick and Jack have heard rumors of a crone summoned by that phrase on a moonlit night to buy unwanted children
- Mable talks to Dobe: Father Dobe at night allowed 2 bregyle into the church. Both male. He had not returned since
- We use this to confront Constable. Henrick will lure the Constable into the woods for questioning
- He brings Merrick and Esther, 2 guards with him
- Rest of party set up a rope to trip up the guards
- Tomkin throws grappling hook to bind constable but misses
- Rope goes taut and Merrick is tripped
- Henrick evades grab from constable, casts hold person and paralyzes constable
- Jack knocks out Merrick with dagger pommel
- Tomkin hits Esther with flat of his blade, staggering but not incapacitating her
- Gwemotom ties up the Constable for insurance
- Lucien ties up Merrick
- "The constable is aligned with the crookhorns!" says Jack

- Esther flees. Tomkin follows and slaps her again with flat of blade and knocks her out. Ties her up
- Gnomaton pinches Constable's cheek. "what a nicely wrapped gift!"
- Tomkin checks guards for blades they can use to cut their binds. they each had daggers
- Jack searches constable's person
 - Crystal vial of liquid with nutty aroma
 - Jack pockets it
- Jack mentions the Crone "Shub's Nana", The Constable reacts
- Henrick gets constable talk by threatening his son
- Constable wanted children go missing to make Malsbeart look bad and reinstate Ramius
- Brought children to hay, silver goblins come to take children
- Shub's Nana is a corrupt Lankshorn, notably not a Crookhorn
- She's sending them north for the May-Lord to eat
- Constable speaking to silver goblins, no Crookhorns
- Crone uses a sleigh for transport
- The phrase summons the goblins to collect the children
- Taunty Horn inn along ditchway - Constable grabbed by goblins and taken almost 1 day south to crone's cottage of brick by a dark rushing brook. Before he knew it he was back at the woods outside of Lankshorn. This was several months ago

- The 3 breggles who intimidated Lley are the ones who bring the kids to the goblins

- We plan to send Constable back to town while we hunt down shub's Nana